CHRISTOPH EMIL RETTIG'S BIRTHPLACE IS FOUND

Research by Nancy Van Blaricum, Dexter, Michigan

As a genealogist, I am accustomed to spending a great deal of time searching for information only to be disappointed, but I have recently experienced success with one of my husband's families and I would like to share with others both the process I used and the results. I have been fortunate enough to travel to Salt Lake City to begin this quest, but it could be done through the local LDS Family History Center. It would of course take much more time, but the results would be the same.

To begin with, let me tell you that I was searching for information on my husband's Maternal Grand Father, Albert Rettig who was born in Prussia, 2 May 1883. He was brought to Washtenaw County with his sister Emma by their parents Emil Rettig and Augusta Upperd/Opperd, according to the family history.

I began my work by learning as much as possible about this family, but nothing gave me a more exact birthplace than Prussia. I went to the Census for 1894, 1900, 1910 and 1920 and found many conflicting bits of information. The dates for coming seemed to be 1883 or 1884 (with one claiming 1886!), and the places from Prussia to Germany. This research was done in Michigan so when I got to Salt Lake City, I was able to go to the 1st basement, the International Floor, where I found help. I had already checked the IGI and found nothing, so with the help of the workers at the desk, I was directed to the Hamburg Passenger Lists. These run from 1850 to 1934 and the index is arranged chronologically and then alphabetically, but only by first letter, so it is necessary to go through the list looking first for your surname. I started in 1883 as one census had reported that date, but finally found them in the early 1884 lists. I was then sent to the passenger lists and there I found our family, their ages and their place of birth! The people at the desk were very helpful and determined the town was Czarnikow, Posen, Prussia. Back to the computer, into the Source to find there were church records for an Evangelical Church and a Catholic Church in the area. Since the Rettigs were members of St. Johns Evangelical Church in Northfield Township, I decided to do the Evangelical records first.

There I found the birth of Christof Emil Rettig, 3 Sep. 1852 to Ludwig Rettig and Wilhemenia Nothnagel! Augusta Oppert (not Opperd or Upperd), was the daughter of Jasmine Oppert but no father is listed. She was born 23 Sep. 1856. Jasmine was once married to a Michael Ponto according to the birth records for Augusta, so I went looking for and found the marriage (it was 24 Sep. 1848), but I have no idea what happened to Michael Ponto. I do know Jasmine kept her married name as she witnessed baptisms and marriages for her sisters later on. She had at least 3 other illegitimate children as I find 2 others dying as children and one other birth.

The records are not complete, there are some missing from about 1835-1840 and 1846-1850, but there are indexes for most that exist and also some early records (1780-1793) are indexed, but the records are not there. I had the four reels of microfilm here in Ann Arbor at the LDS Library for over a year and have spent a great deal of time going through them. I have gone through all the records checking for maiden names which are not indexed and have found much this way. I have also been able to find information on some other family members and have noted many Washtenaw County names which caught my interest beside Rettig, Nothnagel, Ponto, and Friedrich. They are: Braun, Hiller, Jahnke, Krause, Kuhn, Lindemann, Mast, Nickel, Otto, Radke, Rosentretor, Schmidt, Schneider, Ulrich, Waldo, Walter, Westphal, and Wolter.

The records are of the "Evangelische Kirche Czarnikau," and the film numbers are 1191147, item 2-3, #11191148, #1194702 through #1194705 item 5. There are births, marriages and deaths, and most is indexed although sometimes the index is hard to find. All is of course in German.

In July I am going with a Volunteers in Mission Group to Poland for a two week mission to teach English to Polish Teenagers. Then I hope to spend a week in the area that these persons came from as it is now in Poland (since 1918). Perhaps I can find some other descendants of the families, or at least find further records available. Also I hope there may be other family descendants still living in the area, but I realize the two wars may have changed things dramatically in the area. Through the Internet I have made contact with Lukasz Bielecki who is a native of Poznan. His hobby is genealogy, and most of his family research concerns the region of Poznan that I am interested in. The records I cited above are kept in the archives in Poznan, and he is familiar with the German language as well as Polish and English! He is also willing to take me to Czarnikau and any other spots we find. His web address is: http://www.man.poznan.pl/~bielecki. The Internet can be very helpful!

CONNECTICUT TO MICHIGAN: THE DANIEL W. BALDWIN STORY

Research by Carolyn L. Griffin, Ypsilanti, Michigan

My husband Earnest E. Griffin's third great-grandfather was Daniel W. Baldwin who was born in 1808 in Connecticut, the son of Daniel B. and Demaris Baldwin. They arrived in Alleghany County, New York, about 1820 or 1821. According to the History of Alleghany County, New York, published in 1879, ". . . In 1820 George Glover from Ontario County settled in the southwest part, and Daniel Baldwin on the Otto farm the same year or the next."

Alleghany County is located in the southeast tier of counties of New York State. It is bounded on the west by Cattaraugus County, on the north by Wyoming and Livingston Counties, on the east by Steuben County, and on the south by the state of Pennsylvania. It was founded from Genesee County on 7 April 1806. It was part of three land purchases; the eastern tier of towns from the Phelps and Gorham Purchase; the center rows of towns from the Morris Reserve; and the two western tiers in the Holland Purchase. (Shear, Tales of Alleghany County, p.2.)

The town of Allen was formed from Angelica on 31 January 1823. The town census count ranged from 898 people in 1830 to a high of 1026 in 1855. (History of Alleghany County)

The 1860 Gazetteer of New York State described Allen as "hilly upland divided into ridges by the valleys of the streams." Allen Center was a "hamlet . . . with no stores, taverns, doctors, or lawyers . . . ." Allen was primarily devoted to farming and dairy interests. Many owned sheep but after wool declined, cows took their place and then revenue was primarily from cheese, veal calves and hay. Only a few scattered farms remained there when I visited in 1996.

The 1850 Allen, Alleghany County, New York, census enumerated Daniel W. Baldwin as a 42 year old carpenter and joiner from Connecticut worth $780. With him were his wife Evalinda, 27, Charlotte E., 10, Miron (Myron), 8, Demeris, 4, and Sarah F., 1/12. Nearby were his parents Daniel B. (a carpenter and joiner) and Demaris both 66, from Connecticut with land worth $2,000. In this family we find Enos C., 32, a farmer born in New York worth $500, Mary Vauks, 18, born in England, Daniel Franklin, 14, born in New York, and Elizabeth Mooruff, 19, born in New York.

The Alleghany County agricultural census of 1855 showed Daniel and Enos Baldwin owned 75 improved and 100 unimproved acres. They had land worth $3,400, $795 of stock, and $300 worth of tools. Daniel Baldwin alone had 60 improved and 45 unimproved acres valued at $1,400. Enos Baldwin also owned 90 improved and 50 unimproved acres in Granger, Alleghany County, worth $4,900 cash, $700 in stock, and $250 in tools and implements.

The 1855 New York State census described Daniel Baldwin as 45, married, a farmer with wife Evalinda, 32, from Tompkins and children Charlotte, 14, Myron, 12, Damaris, 7, and Sarah, 5. All the children were born in Alleghany County. His father Daniel, 70, from Connecticut was a joiner enumerated with his wife Damaris, 70, from Connecticut and Ann Clark, 12, a friend from Alleghany County. Daniel W. and his parents had lived in Allen for 30 years. This meant they had arrived between 1820 and 1825 although records indicated that they might have purchased land before that date.

Deeds indicated many land transactions which took place while they lived in Alleghany County. On 12 January 1839 Daniel B. Baldwin of the town of Allen bought 100 acres of land for $200 from William Short, Attorney for Allen Agriculture. On 13 January 1840 Samuel L. Baldwin sold Daniel land for $436. Daniel also purchased land from Silas Cooper on 7 July 1846 for $80. He sold land on 2 June 1852 to William L. Andrus. This deed was signed by Daniel B. and Demarius Baldwin.

Daniel W. Baldwin and his wife Evalinda sold land on 3 October 1848 to Catharine H. Rice for $150. On the same day Asa Cooper also sold land to Catharine Rice. Originally it was land "deeded by Asa Cooper and wife to Daniel W. Baldwin." On 23 May 1853 Daniel W. and Evaline of the town of Allen sold land to Alfred D. Burt for $975 which were lands originally owned by Asa Cooper. Daniel W. sold land to Samuel Pratt on 4 November 1857 for $1,582.50, and then sold 100 acres of land for $2,000 to William Short on 10 October 1863.

The July 1860 federal census of P.O. Allen Center, Town of Allen, enumerated Daniel Baldwin, 75, a farmer worth $2,500 and $700 with wife Dama, 75. Both were from Connecticut with domestics Ann Clark, 17, and Adaline Clark, 12. Enos Baldwin was a 42 year old farmer with wife Mary Baldwin, 48, of England, George 5, Flora, 2, and Elizabeth Nokes, 20, a teacher born in England.

Daniel's younger brother Enos Baldwin was 68 from Connecticut and married one time but was a widower. He was a native voter, and owned land. With him was his daughter Jane Baldwin, 31, and single of Alleghany County. He owned 100 improved and 40 unimproved acres in the 1865 New York State census.

Nearby was another Enos Baldwin in the Granger, Alleghany County, census. He was 78 from Connecticut. He was a retired farmer living with his son George Baldwin, 40, a farmer born in Alleghany County with wife Alice, 42, from Livingston County, daughter Adrianna, 16, and son Charles F., 13, both born in the county. He was described in the History of Alleghany County, as dying at the age of 79 on 25 September 1876. He was a justice of the peace for 32 years, held many county jobs, and was a captain in the state militia. He came from Mt. Morris, Livingston County, and took up a farm at Short Track. His son George W. Baldwin was a well known resident of the town. George was born in Granger on 14 October 1834. His father was a native of Connecticut who came to the area in 1823. G. W. Baldwin married Miss Alice Gray of Allen on 22 November 1857. He owned 146 acres of land and was the excise commissioner.

We do not find any Daniel or Demaris mentioned in the 1865 Alleghany County, New York, census or the 1870 federal census, so we believe that Daniel W. had already moved to Michigan after the death of his parents. No will or other records seemed to appear in the Alleghany court records for them.

Within a few years, records about the family appeared in Michigan. Myron Baldwin, son of Daniel and Evalinda, was granted a homestead certificate on 20 March 1862 in Wexford County, Michigan. He was a 27 year old farmer with land worth $2,000 and personal property worth $100 in 1870. By the 1880 census, Myron was a 36 year old farmer, born in New York, with wife Rose, 30, of Pennsylvania, and daughters Lulu, 5, and Maud, 1, both born in Michigan.

On 11 April 1868 in Manistee County, Daniel and Evalinda of Wexford were witnesses for the marriage between their daughter Sarah Baldwin, age 17, and Irvin W. Benson, 29, both of Wexford County.

Daniel and Evalinda appeared in Sherman, Wexford County, in the 1870 federal census. Daniel was a farmer 62 years old and Evalinda, housewife, was 48 years old, both born in New York. They owned land worth $2,000 and had personal property worth $350. In 1880 the Wexford Township census described Daniel as age 71 with parents from Connecticut and Evalinda as a 59 year old housekeeper with parents from New York.

Their daughter Demarious Baldwin had married William E. Dean. William in 1880 was age 34 born in New York and living in Springville Township, Wexford County. Demarious was with him age 33, also born in New York. The children, all born in Michigan, were: Evilinda (Evalinda), 12, Samuel E., 4, Charles E., 2, and William 5/12.

The 1900 census soundex of Springville Township yielded birth months for William (May 1846) and Evalinda (March 1847). The children enumerated were: Charles E. born August 1877, William B. born December 1879, Jennie V. born December 1882 and Lauria Wood age 33, born April 1867. All of the children were born in Michigan.

The youngest daughter Sarah F. Baldwin who married Irvin Waterman Benson in 1868 also lived in Wexford County. They had eight children.
